“ John and I were shocked to hear about Marilyn. A loved one gone can hurt worse than physical pain and can sometimes feel unbearable. Grieve your way, it's not a race. Know you will be okay. It will be a tuff journey ahead. Some things we can't just breeze by, and losing the people we love is one of those things. Celebrate her life is all we can do. I know she was a beautiful person and I wish we could have known each other better all these years. We love you sweet Wendy. You too are special and we lift you and your family up in prayer.

“ My deepest condolences for your loss. I am a psychology professor at Goshen College and, regretfully, will be unable to attend the viewing. I have many fond memories of Marilyn as the science administrative assistant. Her bubbly laugh and warm personality always brought a smile to my face. I am comforted to know that she loved the Lord. My prayers are with you. Julie Reese

“ No words can express my sorrow over losing this beautiful Lady in my life. She and Roger ministered to my mom in ways that blessed her so much. Especially in her declining years. Roger and Marilyn supported my siblings and me when we struggled and grieved through the losses we went through as a family. Roger and Marilyn was taken way too soon for all of us. They will be rembered with great fondness and they will live on in my heart till I see them again. Thank you Lord for this precious woman.

“ I never had the pleasure of meeting this fine lady, but I know she made my friend, Joe, a very happy man. She was so much of a blessing to him. I am sure she will be sorely missed by her family and by Joe and her pets. May you all find peace in happy memories of this dear person.

“ She and Roger were 2 of the most beautiful souls I've ever met!! Always there if u needed to talk or trying to comfort u at a moment of weakness!! The stories they told the wisdom they shared the sweet kind hearts they had!! They were the most non judgemental and understanding people I've ever met!! The truest definition to the term Christian!! I will forever hold them in my heart!! And I am so saddened by ur loss!!!

“ We are Paul Housholder's parents and this past Christmas season made a visit to Paul and family next door to Marilyn. She and Joe were over in just a few minutes to tell us the good news about their relationship. We were so pleased for them both and their joy in meeting one another was contagious. We were happy for her and the fun she was having being with Joe. We want to extend our sympathy to him and to her daughter.

“ One of the last times that Mom and I talked we laughed again of how we met so many years ago, Andy I didn't know that one little boy could loose so much blood and that you could splatter it all over. What a night! Your Mom was a wonderful person and she will be remembered with much love, Wendy a little girl that spent as much time in our home as she did hers, you will remain one of ours. You know the path and where the door is always open. Terry and Shirley
