“ I remember meeting Mark through a mutual friend. At the time I just broke up with my bf of 11 years. He was an angel that lifted me from my despair and depression. We've shared so many memories, vacations and more. A gentleman with a warm heart. Very soft spoken but for some reason, I was able to understand every word he spoke. I will miss him greatly. Best friends for over 14 years. Rest peacefully.

“ Mark and I used to go to car dealerships and pretend to be a couple just so we could test drive the cars. Then we would go to the mall and people watch. He was my Housing and Interior Design buddy in high school.

“ It's been a very long time since I've seen Mark, I remember how kind and shy he was. It saddens my heart to know he is no longer with us.

“ I remember the day we met...on a dance floor (go figure) down in Miami. We had an instantaneous connection like fate meant for us to be right there at that moment just so we could become friends. That was so long ago now, but at times it seems like yesterday. The last two decades are full of so many memories and I can't imagine my life taking the course it has without you. Now, it's hard to imagine the rest of my life without you here. I'm glad you're not hurting anymore. I'm glad that you are reunited with your mother again. I'll always miss you, my dear friend.

“ I'll remember you always giving me a hard time about bringing you in food to the hospital, having everything just right in your room and being so stubborn...I miss you...
